How to make Tomato Puree Tube Art

By Emma Jones

You will need
An empty tomato puree tube
Scissors
An old pen with no ink or something similar A spoon

Next cut off the bottom and top of the tube.
Cut up one of the sides.
Open it up and wash the remaining puree and dry.

It's gold!!!!!

Now use the back of the spoon , in a circular motion, to rub out all the kinks etc .

You now need to turn it over and using your old pen start mark making.The harder you press the more defined the marks will be. So you can make soft or hard marks . It is always easier to do your design before you start and you can always draw on top of it. Don't forget it will be the reverse image.You can make marks on the gold side as well.

Most important is to have fun! You can make small pieces or use as much of the area as possible.You could make a piece to hang up where you work or you could use your design as a starting point for a picture. I particularly enjoy collage so I have added a body from a painted piece of paper and drew some legs .

Hope you have a go and enjoy making your tomato puree tube art!!!
